

Reconnective Healing:

A NEW LEVEL OF HEALING MAKES ITS WAY TO THE PLANET

By Dr. Eric Pearl, Founder of Reconnective Healing

Reconnective Healing is a new level of healing that, according to the researches and scientists, may very well be here on the planet for the first time. Now, of course, scientists and researchers are the last people you would expect to make such a bold statement – and so I asked, “How can you say something this strongly?”

And they said, “It really makes perfect sense if you just understand two basic concepts.” Concept One is that we are four-dimensional beings. We exist in a four-dimensional world of height, width, depth and time. And in Quantum Physics today they often illustrate that world as a bubble. They tell us to imagine that the wall, or the cell of the bubble, the outside of the bubble, is comprised of height, width, depth and time, and everything inside that bubble is energy. This has been our four-dimensional existence from the beginning. The healing techniques we’ve had here – Reiki, Johrei, Jin Shin and QiGong, for instance – have been different portions, subsets or fractions of energy. You access Reiki through a different technique then you access QiGong. It feels different; they’re different parts of this energy.

It’s as if you’re looking at the heavens at night and studying the stars. You pick up a telescope and use it as a metaphor for one of these “techniques.” The more you fine-tune your view from that telescope, the more you fine-tune that technique, the better you might be able to see that one portion of the sky that is exposed to the planet at that moment in time. But what is the expense, what is the cost, what is the price that you pay when you fine-tune that telescope? Well, you lose the rest of the vista, the rest of the horizon, the rest of the picture. At some point it becomes wise to place the telescope down so that we can see the entire sky. With Reconnective Healing, we can access the entirety of the energy that exists within our bubble, not just a portion.

But here comes Concept Two – which is – time is moving faster. Not just in a linear fashion from point A to point B... but time is moving faster in all directions at once – in other words, time is expanding. Which means our bubble, our playground of existence is opening up, expanding further, further out in to the universe encompassing more of what’s always existed in the universe, but hasn't been present on our planet before. In other words, it's timeless in its existence, but once it enters into our bubble of height, width, depth and time it is new to us. And so it is bringing in levels of energy that haven't been seen here before -- and further expanding beyond energy into a spectrum of energy, light and information that is present for the first time.

Reconnective Healing is different than the "techniques" of traditional energy healing because they access only a limited range of energy. In contrast, Reconnective Healing takes us beyond the techniques into the full spectrum of energy, light and information. Instead of looking for a problem and trying to fix it with a "technique," we can totally transcend the diagnosis. The gift of stepping into Reconnective Healing is that it allows us to facilitate healings that are far greater, that tend to last for the lifetime of the person and are often fairly instantaneous.

Reconnective Healing is not something we do. It's something we allow and help facilitate. It works by itself, as well as greatly expands the results of the modalities that today's healing and healthcare practitioners are already using. We can each be the catalyst for other's healings and our own. What can be better than that?

But are we dealing with something – not just theoretic or anecdotal – real here?

The evidence is in the scientific studies showing the effects on heart waves, brain waves and gamma waves. There is a transformation that takes place once you interact with this new, all-encompassing spectrum of healing frequencies. Something changes in the tissues and even our DNA.

- The University of Arizona's Human Energy Systems Laboratory, under Gary Schwartz, PhD, have performed six major controlled experiments that have substantiated the electromagnetic transference in Reconnection Healing.
- William A. Tiller, PhD, Professor Emeritus of Stanford University was able to gauge a huge energy upsurge in The Reconnection workshop rooms. The measurements in the rooms where Reconnective Healing takes place shows levels of energy that he says couldn't possibly be reproduced. The analogy they use, is it's as if they heated the room to over 300 degrees Centigrade.
- Konstantin Korotkov, PhD, Deputy Director of Saint-Petersburg Federal Research Institute of Physical Culture in Russia is tracking significant improvement in athlete's peak performance once exposed to the Reconnective Healing frequencies. Dr. Korotkov discovered that it alters and affects the blood. He has demonstrated this on the Russian Olympic Athletes they've been testing. So it changes our blood, it changes our DNA and it even changes the gamma radiation that we emit as human beings.
- A study by researchers at The University of Arizona finds that people with range of motion limitations – inability to move without restriction – may find a considerable source of relief in Reconnective Healing. In a paper published in the Journal of Evidence-Based Complementary and Alternative Medicine, scientists determined that a 10-minute session of Reconnective Healing is "significantly more effective than physical therapy."

What is so exciting about this is that everyone can learn how to do this. And our reward is oftentimes far more than just the amazing experience of helping someone else to heal. Reconnective Healing is a pathway to transformation for both the healer and the person receiving the healing. The evidence shows that the healer or practitioner also receives the gift of the healing frequencies.

So how does one become proficient as a Reconnective Healing catalyst to heal themselves and others? The first thing that has to happen is you have to interact with the frequencies. There are various levels in which you can do that. On the simple basic level, you can begin to access this by reading The Reconnection, Heal Others, Heal Yourself, now available in over 36 languages.

But, the keyword here is that you can begin to access it from reading the book. Even though the last third of the book is a basic “How To,” it is especially valuable to attend Reconnective Healing seminars because there you are soaking in these frequencies and you are going through transformation throughout the weekend. On top of that, you are also learning the light and consciousness of this work and the philosophy, which is what allows it to come through.

We show you how to access, to find and to feel the frequencies. And as you do, you will most likely see the body of the person who is lying on the table begin to move involuntarily. Their fingers, their feet, their arms and/or legs. Their eyes will probably begin to rapidly dart back and forth. Even the tiny muscles on the forehead or the chin, muscles that we can't easily move intentionally or independently, will go into involuntary movement. And you will begin to see and recognize that by your “tuning in” to certain sensations, the person responds physically. As you locate and access other sensations, you'll see the person visibly respond in another way. This is how you start to recognize your mastery in the work. In your “seeing” lies your “knowingness.” And by the end of the weekend, I can pretty much make you two promises. One, you'll be able to do anything and everything that I can do in the way of healing. And, two, you'll be able to do anything and everything that any human being on this planet can do in the way of healing. People are always astonished at what they can accomplish after only one weekend's worth of instruction.

What this means is that you and I are standing on the precipice of the next level of human evolution. And as we reconnect with the truth of who and what we are, we shine as the light that we are, we illuminate our own lives and we illuminate the lives of others. And as this work spreads, we raise the health, consciousness and vibration of everyone on the planet and, therefore, of the planet itself. All we have to do is open up and experience it and share it.

The next Essentials of Reconnective Healing@ Seminar, will be held in Houston July 19-20, 2014. There is a Friday night July 18 Essence of Healing presentation at the George R. Brown Convention Center, 1001 Avenida de las Americas in Houston, which is open to the public. As part of the evening, he will invite onstage one or more audience members with visible ailments, so as to demonstrate what is often a spontaneous healing response.
